Consider the following statements

- 1. Under Price Deficiency Payment (PDP system), farmers will be compensated for difference between the MSPs and the Procurement Price.
- 2. Price deficiency system will be introduced for targeted crops only.

Which of the following statements is/are incorrect?

[A] Only 1

[B] Only 2

[C] Both 1 and 2

[D] Neither 1 and 2

A new idea has been mooted out by the Niti Aayog called,
—Price Deficiency Payment in order to support the farmers in the event when the market price falls below Minimum Support Price (MSP).

This system aims to provide a part (for example 70 %) of the difference between the MSP and the market price to the farmers.

Under Price Deficiency Payment, proposal has been made to compensate for the difference between the government-announced Minimum Support Price and the actual market price for selected crops.

For crops such as rice and wheat where it is effective currently, MSP announcements will continue.

For other targeted crops, price deficiency payments will be made.

However, it has to be noted that there may be a cap on the extent to which the Centre will bridge the gap between MSP and market price.

ABOUT ILO

The International Labour Organization deals with labour problems, particularly international labour standards, social protection, and work opportunities for all.

The International Labour Organisation (ILO) is a specialised agency of the United Nations (UN).

The ILO was established as an agency of the League of Nations following World War I

The ILO was created in 1919, as part of the Treaty of Versailles that ended World War I, to reflect the belief that universal and lasting peace can be accomplished only if it is based on social justice.

The ILO became the first specialised agency of the UN in 1946.

The International Labour Organization has published India Wage Report.

Details of the report

Stronger implementation of minimum wage laws and boosting frameworks for collective bargaining are needed.

Real average daily wages in India almost doubled in the first two decades after economic reforms, but low pay and wage inequality remains a serious challenge to inclusive growth.

India's labour share — or the proportion of national income which goes into labour compensation, as opposed to capital or landowners — has declined.

The rise in average wages was more rapid in rural areas, and for casual workers.

The gender wage gap decreased from 48% in 1993-94 to 34% in 2011-12, but still remains high by international standards.

The ILO also highlighted the lack of timely data as a hindrance, pointing out that its analysis — and the decisions of Indian policy makers — was dependent on 2011-12 data from the Employment and Unemployment Survey (EUS) of the National Sample Survey Office (NSSO)
